REPORT TO THE LISTENER

Lynn Samuels to Be Music Director

Lynn Samuels has been hired as WBAI's Music Director as of October 15. Lynn is replacing Richard Barr who has served as Music Director for 2½ years.

Lynn is best known to WBAI listeners for her live radio program "Part of the Act," currently heard on Saturday afternoon and previously heard Friday midnight.

But Lynn has also become known behind the scenes during the last year and a half as our fundraising "marathon" coordinator, at which she has done an excellent job.

Lynn has specifically stated that she sees music at WBAI as being much more than "someone coming in with a bag of records." She wants to direct the department towards more live and taped concerts and events, both within the station and from outside places, more produced programming, with interviews, commentary on the music, and other elements, airing of "basement tapes," and general encouragement for new musicians and world music less frequently heard on other stations.

That's tough to do in a place with no budget. But Lynn brings a great deal of enthusiasm to the task.

My best wishes to Lynn, and my thanks to all of the applicants and staff interviewers who patiently participated in the long and slow process.

Thanking Gregory Millard

It was my sad task to attend a memorial service on October 10 at St. Mark's-in-the-Bowery for Gregory Millard. Greg had died of AIDS on Friday, October 5

As one of Greg's friends said at the service, Greg was "a poet who happened to be an arts administrator." Greg was the Assistant Commissioner for Cultural Affairs for the City of New York from 1978 until his death. Greg was also a poet and playwright, some of whose works have aired on WBAI. And Greg was also one of the founders of WPFW, the Pacifica Radio station in Washington, D.C. He served as WPFW's first General Manager from 1975 until 1978, which included actually bringing the station onto the air in 1977.

When I last spoke to Greg, a few months ago, we discussed his time at WPFW a bit. He said, "You know, the one thing I resent is that no one ever thanked me." I said, "Well, I'll thank you."

Thanks, Greg.

MUSIC NOTES

I guess after nine years at WBAI I don't really have to introduce myself, but I would like to say hello, in my new position as Music Director. The first change you will notice is the return of Lenny Lopate's Gospel Program—the first three Sundays in November, from 8:30 to 10pm.

In the months to come, with the co-operation of energetic, volunteer engineers, you'll be hearing many more concerts, of all kinds, recorded on location and here in WBAI's studios.

If you have any ideas or suggestions, please drop me a line here at 505 8th Ave. I won't necessarily have time to respond to everyone, but I assure you I will read everything mailed to me.

New York is one of the most dynamic musical cities in the world and I hope to have WBAI's music department begin to reflect much of that creative energy and excitement.

—Lynn Samuels

THIS MONTH ON WBAI

Many people yearn for radio of the old days, where a creative approach was taken, combining sound effects with actors and their scripts to make stories so real sounding that you felt you were actually there. Even the commercials in those days had such drama that by comparison today's ads seem dry and lifeless. And scanning the dial can make you think that there is no longer an art to radio, as mindless playlists prevail—except if you are tuned to 99.5 WBAI.

Here we believe there are no bounds to radio (except financial, perhaps) and prove it with the six-part series EXPLORATION OF RADIO, beginning Sunday, November 25 at 10 pm, and continues each evening that week at the same time through Friday, November 30. The series represents the works of a variety of producers from here and abroad.

We wish well to Larry Josephson who has jumped bail and left his Sunday morning show permanently—at least for a while, anyway. We'll continue to hear his work on THE BOB AND RAY PUBLIC RADIO SHOW Saturdays at 6:30 pm. Meantime, Mike Feder moves into the Sunday morning timeslot with his live radio show HARDWORK. And what happens Thursday mornings to replace Mike is anybody's guess as we rush towards presstime. SEVENTH INNING STRETCH, WBAI's sports program with Lee Lowenfish, expands to an hour starting Mondays in November beginning at 2:30 pm And the MEDIA REVIEW gang is reportedly taking speech lessons from the Chipmunks to make up for the difference.

With the round of colds that has recently hit the WBAI staff, one might get the impression that we don't take our own health shows very seriously. Well, it's not really so, as we are probably no worse off than any other office in the city, but it is true that we offer more health-related programs than most other radio stations, with the daily program NATURAL LIVING at noon with Gary Null, and EVERYWOMANSPACE with Maryanne Napoli and Paula Tedesco covering women's medical issues alternate Fridays at 1 pm. Some specials along this line during November are: THE AIDS LEGAL HANDBOOK on GAY RAP, Wednesday, November 7 at 9 pm, from the gay men's collective; RESTORE MY VOICE, a documentary on the effects of uranium mining on the Navaho Indians on Thursday, November 22 at 2:30 pm, produced by Ann Spanel; and THE PAIN OF THE POOR, a look at diabetes, part of a radio magazine called URBAN AUDIO, produced by Kofi Pendergrass and Kato Williams, airing Thursday, November 15 at 1 pm. It may not all be easy to listen to the perils of the ill, but it is very important that we keep informed.

But there are reasons to be cheerful this month: We hear a conversation with LILLIAN HELLMAN on THE SWEETEST SMELLING BABY OF NEW ORLEANS on Friday, November 23 at 9 pm, produced by Jan Albert; A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION FOR AARON COPELAND on AMERICAN MUSIC, Wednesday, November 14 at 9 am, produced by Bill Moore; and a two-part special of READINGS FROM THE POETRY CALENDAR, airing Friday November 9 and Friday, November 16 at 9:30 pm, recorded by John Fisk and produced by Sharon Mattlin.

WBAI provides ELECTION COVERAGE all evening, Tuesday, November 6, beginning at 8 pm with what we may just need most, ELECTION COMEDY, and continues with reports through the evening, and for as long as it takes, or until something unnameable happens.

And from all of us to all of you—a very happy Thanksgiving.

A HOLIDAY IN NEW YORK

As New York is a city of transition, peoples' celebrations of the winter holidays reflect the shifting population patterns formed during the year. Some people return home for a few days to visit with family and friends. Others who have moved here from other places, and who may now have close ties here, might see November and December here in these neighborhoods. And then those with strong roots in this city may well stay right here to carry on the traditions. For all of these people the holidays can bring back the memories of seasons past—and friends in other places.

We've discovered that those sentimental for their days in New York, and, of course, those who have listened to WBAI in the past, and who miss it, very often subscribe to this program guide as a means of keeping in touch with the city. Indeed, we have more subscribers in Massachusetts than New Jersey at this point, but that's probably due to the slow mailing service across the river more than sentimentality. Whatever the case, this program guide has readers coast-to-coast.

Meantime, our radio station continues to operate and is reaching folks in many states. The number of people who subscribe, though, is a small percentage compared to all the listeners. So we will count on you to pass the word along about our upcoming fundraiser—the Holiday Crafts Fair coming up in December.

Why do we ask you to think about gift shopping—when we're only now thinking about Thanksgiving? Let's just say it is nice to plan ahead for those out-of-town gifts you'll be sending out, or those presents you'll be bringing along with you on your travels next month.

The WBAI Holiday Crafts Fair is being held at the Ferris Booth Hall at Columbia University beginning Thursday, December 6 through Sunday, December 9 for the early season shoppers, and December 13-16 and December 20-23 for those with more immediate shopping needs.

We're mentioning the Crafts Fair now also for those of you whose subscription to WBAI runs out this month. We hope that most of you will renew now. Then there are those of you who are moving onto other towns or cities, creating the push on the never ending revolving door that is New York. We'll miss you. But as every day goes by, and someone accidently discovers this radio station, we find we can make new friends. So if you are on your way out, help someone new in.
Pass the word along about WBAI.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

In January of 1985 WBAI will have been on the air as a non-commercial, listener-supported radio station for twenty-five years. More than two-hundred thousand hours of programming have been broadcast over 99.5 since then.

As part of the upcoming year-long celebration, highlights from the best of WBAI will be featured on a regular basis, with short carts and weekly specials drawn from the archives, present and past producers, the news, drama, public affairs, and music departments.

The most difficult part of course is selecting which programs to use and finding out who has them or where they are. When did you start listening to WBAI? What particular show or period sticks in your mind?

Please submit your choices, ideas, suggestions and whatever material you think might be of value to me as soon as possible. It would be ideal to have a list of, say, "The First 25 Shows" from WBAI's First 25 Years mounted in retrospective moviehouse form in the January Folio, but we must find out what's available first and soon.

Hopefully by reviewing where we've been and reminding those who have drifted away that we are still here, we can insure the future twenty-five years of WBAI.

Sincerely,
Peter Bochan
Executive Producer

John Kirkpatrick

JOHN KIRKPATRICK on PIPER IN THE MEADOW STRAYING, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 9:30 AM to 11 AM. John Kirkpatrick is one of England's finest accordion, concertina, and melodeon players. He has worked extensively as a soloist, as part of a duo with oboist and hammered dulcimer player Sue Harris, and with a host of groups including The Albion Country Band, Steeleye Span, and the Richard Thompson Band. His most recent work is with the innovative English band Brass Monkey where he joins Martin Carthy as well as several brass players to present mostly English traditional music in a new context. This interview was recorded in October, 1983, and was produced by Edward Haber.

Will the bombing start in 5 minutes? Was Reagan just joking, or is the Pentagon planning a First Strike?

THE DISARM EDUCATION FUND invites you to an important teach-in with Studs Terkel, moderator and author of "Good Way"; Ramsey Clark, former attorney General; Michio Kaku, Professor of Nuclear Physics at the CUNY Graduate Center; Daniel Ellsberg, former Pentagon analyst; Herbert Scoville, former senior CIA official; Paul Warnke, former SALT II negotiator. Invited guests include Robert McNamara, former Secretary of Defense; Petra Kelly, Green Party.

The teach-in will answer the questions: Why is Reagan building first strike weapons? Why doesn't the Pentagon discuss a no first strike policy? Should the movement begin a CAMPAIGN AGAINST FIRST STRIKE WEAPONS?

This program will be aired over WBAI and many other public radio stations across the country and video taped for cable television.

The teach-in will be held on January 18, 1985, 7:30 pm in the Loeb Student Center, 566 LaGuardia Place, NYC. Suggested donation for tickets is $5.00. For reservations send your check to DISARM, 113 University Place, NYC, 10003, att: Rosemarie Reed. Stipends are available.

CORRECTION

The October Folio had a photo which was incorrectly identified. It was Jan Kerouac, not Marjorie Van Halteren, above the highlight about the tribute to Jack Kerouac. Also, the editor regrets not labeling an advertisement for BAILA with the word "advertisement" to distinguish it from WBAI promotional ads. BAILA is an independent organization, not necessarily representing the views of WBAI.

DEADLINES

The copy deadline for the December Folio is Monday, November 5. Copy for the January issue is due Wednesday, December 5. Classifieds and non-camera ready ads are due Friday, November 9 for the December issue and Friday, December 7 for the January program guide. Camera-ready ads are due to us on the 13th of each month prior to publication.
